Neal A. Jacobs Speaks At Eastern Technology Council Seminar

June 11, 2003

Neal A. Jacobs, Managing Partner of The Jacobs Law Group, PC, recently spoke at a seminar presented by the Eastern Technology Council and co-sponsored by Inflow, Philadelphia. The seminar, "Averting Disaster: Protecting Your Mission-Critical Data," dealt with the key aspects of corporate disaster recovery, information security and business contingency planning.

Speaking about the legal ramifications of corporate security plans, Jacobs addressed an array of topics ranging from the USA PATRIOT Act and invasion of privacy concerns to discrimination lawsuits and the fiduciary responsibilities of corporate directors. Mr. Jacobs, along with his fellow speakers, stressed the importance of forethought and advanced planning in the formation of a business' security plans.
